you are where you live

The Glades at Bothwell has been designed and built to create simple, yet elegant and dynamic forms nestled within the wooded landscape at the end of Glebe Wynd. The design of the four storey townhouses creates an exciting exchange with the surrounding dwellings whilst energising residential living in this more traditional area.

The design intent was led by the idea in creating a place where nature and architecture entwine. The whole scheme is divided into four distinctive blocks offering expansive four storey, 4 bedroom spaces. The design of the individual terraces and gardens weave all the units together, binding them as a community without disturbing their privacy.
